Why is this deposit licence required?

Glasgow Caledonian University supports the long-term preservation of digital research output by staff, making this output widely accessible and free of charge, via the research repository, ResearchOnline@GCU. The research repository is part of the Pure research information management system and portal. To achieve this, repository/Pure administrators need permission to store, copy and manage the material held within the repository, to ensure that it can be preserved and made available in the future.

This Deposit Licence is designed to give repository/Pure administrators the right to do this, and to confirm that the depositor has the right to submit the material to the repository. The Licence is non-exclusive, and the depositor does not give away any of their rights to the repository.
